APRIL: FINANCIAL LITERACY AWARENESS MONTH

How will you participate?

"Rest and self-care are so important. When you take time to replenish your spirit, it allows you to serve from the overflow." - Elanor Brown

As aspiring healthcare professionals, MUSC students are committed to helping others. However, you must help yourself first to best help others. By improving your financial capability, you can avoid the stress of financial hardships to better focus on your schooling and your future work.

Financial Literacy Awareness Month is a great time to start that journey to educate yourself on financial topics. OSFL designed events based on student requested topics-- budgeting to AI-powered emergency funds to Investing 101. Our goal is to ensure that Financial Awareness Month has something for everyone and every skill level. Join the Office of Student Financial Literacy in April to improve your financial skills and prepare for your future careers.

GET INVOLVED

GROUP

In-person events give learners an opportunity to discuss and learn from their peers. Questions you may have are likely questions a peer also has. Join in to learn more about various financial topics.

INDIVIDUALLY

One-on-one counseling is effective in the financial space as personal finance is personal. Connect virtually or in-person with a financial literacy counselor or financial success coach to discuss your situation.

VIRTUALLY

Not on campus or like to learn on the go? Connect with our online activities, such as virtual trivia, Brightspace Financial Literacy asynchronous course, or listen to Financially Fit Students. OSFL wants to connect no matter the distance.
